New Building Record For One-Family Homes

Board Of Trade Has Good Start On Year's Plans

In lining up projects for the Andover Board of Trade for the ensuing year, President Donald B. Look reports that the bill for the Christmas street lighting has been paid in full and the board has about $200 on hand to apply to next season's Yule decorations.

Pres. Look will call a meeting of the board of directors shortly to make plans for the year. Soon afterward a meeting of the full board will be held at which time colored movies of the Santa Claus parade will be shown.

Plans are also in the making for presenting a Nativity scene next Christmas in connection with the street lighting. Several ideas for full-life figures have been suggested and the board is expected to get this project started soon so that everything will be in readiness for incorporating this Christmastime scene into the holiday decorations.

A new record in Andover's continued building boom was established last year in the number of single-family dwellings for which permits were issued, a total of 152 such dwellings costing $1,884,000 having been recorded by Building Inspector Ralph W. Coleman.

The estimated cost of all new construction for which permits were issued in 1953 was placed at $2,018,095 and the cost of additions and alterations at $197,975, a total of $2,216,070.

During the construction boom that started about six years ago the town has added 709 new buildings plus 56 apartments in the veterans' housing project.

The number of new buildings, their estimated cost and that for additions and alterations over this period is as follows:

1948 — 100; cost $1,224,109; add., $147,600; total $1,371,709.

1949 — 80 and 56 apartments; $1,431,350; add., $106,335; total $1,537,685.

1950 — 130; $2,533,500; add., $143,150; total $2,676,650.

1951 — 127; $2,805,801; add., $176,475; total $2,982,276.

1952 — 120; $1,908,650; add., $172,600; total $2,081,250.

1953 — 152, $2,018,095; add., $197,975; total $2,216,070.

In comparison with these figures it may be noted that in 1947 the total number of new building units was 70 with an estimated cost of $689,000., with additions and alterations of $100,150, a total of $789,150.

School Housing Needs Discussed

The housing needs of Andover's growing school population were discussed last Saturday morning at a joint session of the school housing planning committee and the school committee with Architect Howard Rich of Boston.

Mr. Rich was the architect on the two new elementary schools and is familiar with the local situation.

The problem which these committees face is a two-fold one; first to give relief to the grade schools in the immediate future, and second, to give relief ultimately to the grades in the junior and high schools.

Members of the school housing committee are: Gordon L. Colquhoun, chairman; Anna M. Greeley, Edward I. Erickson, Louis E. Gleason, Vasco E. Nunez and Howell M. Stillman.

Want Chief Clerk For Assessors' Div.

Following the recommendation for the reorganization of the assessors' department made by Chairman Roy E. Hardy in his New Year's statement published in The Townsman, the selectmen will include the sum of $4000 in their 1954 budget to provide for a chief assessor's clerk.

In his statement to the people of Andover, Mr. Hardy, who is to retire at the end of his present term as selectman and assessor, said that good assessing work in this division of town affairs is the basis of a strong financial government.

He advocated having one full-time assessor or a chief clerk for the assessors' department who had some knowledge of building and engineering.

The matter will be taken up with the finance commission.

3 Storms Bring 12-In. Snow Cover

Three snow storms beginning last Saturday left a snow cover of 11 or 12 inches here in four days. The storms were general all over the eastern states with the heavier precipitation in southeastern New England.

The first storm Saturday left about 3 inches of snow and brought out snow plows for the first time this season.

The second storm started Monday and brought about 4 inches more. This was accompanied by strong northeast winds which piled up the light snow in high drifts. Temperatures were about 6 above during the day.

All parents and friends are cordially invited to attend the program.

Red Cross Notes

Agnes Daley, Gail Barton, and Joyce Dunlop were chosen as representatives from the Junior high school to the Punchard Red Cross council.

At a recent meeting of the Red Cross council, plans were discussed for making a correspondence album to send to Greece in exchange for one which Andover has been privileged to receive. This album will contain information about the town, its schools and their activities. All material entered in the album will be the work of students in all the schools of Andover. The project is expected to last for several months and it will be part of the school work. The project will take much time and planning but the finished product will satisfy all efforts spent.

Junior High Assembly

On Friday, Jan. 8, the Junior high assembly consisted of an open student council meeting with the student body participating. The main subject for discussion was "Improvements on the Hand Book", A book giving rules, regulations, events and a calendar for the school.

Notes

Gail Thompson and Betsy Sparks have been chosen to co-edit the senior class year book.

Mid-year examinations will begin Wednesday, Jan. 20 and will last three days. A revised schedule is being planned so that all exams of one subject will fall on the same day for all courses. The regular school schedule is disregarded on exam days.

PUNCHARD'S STUDY PROGRAM REVISED

one-half year course in review of College Preparatory Mathematics is to be offered in the twelfth grade.

Foreign Languages

Every student preparing for a liberal arts college will be strongly urged to pursue a minimum of three years of one language. Some, however, will be able to meet their needs with the absolute minimum of two years, while others may wish to study two languages to advanced levels.

Social Studies

The course in Civics is being re-established in the ninth grade program at which level it is far more generally offered. Several new courses are being introduced into the upper three years to modernize the offering and to make it of more practical value. For example, a course in Sociology available to the tenth grade will embody the principles of health and social living. Consumer Education in the eleventh grade will be the Social Studies complement to the course in Consumer Mathematics — both for practical application. In the senior year, a course entitled Problems of Modern Living will include the features now present in courses in Problems of Democracy, Marriage, and Family Living together with some of the material now offered in General Psychology. Contemporary Geography, elective in the junior year, will cover the material now included in Economic Geography, and Geography and Current Events. In addition to the above, United States History will be required of all students, usually in the junior year, while European History will remain a senior elective.

Science

The offering will remain much the same except that there will be separate divisions of Physics and Chemistry for non-college preparatory students requiring less background in mathematics, and offering more of practical usage.

Commercial Subjects

The course in Bookkeeping II is being eliminated as unnecessary, in accordance with conferences with the Head of the Commercial Department and a study of prevailing practices in other schools. The course in Economic Geography will be embodied in the course in Contemporary Geography in the junior year.

Shop and Homemaking

The present plan is to offer these subjects in two double periods per week, and to make them available to all students who wish to take them and into whose schedules they can be fitted.

Art and Music

There will probably be relatively little change in these subjects. The nature of the offerings will be decided by the Headmaster in consultation with the Supervisors of Art and Music.

Subject Matter

In the general requirements that went with the new program it is noted that the Carnegie unit is to be adopted to replace the outmoded point system.

In general it will mean that a full-year prepared subject carries one unit of credit instead of five points, while an unprepared one carries one-half unit. A student will have to complete four units for promotion from Grade 9 to Grade 10, eight units for promotion to Grade 11, twelve units for promotion to Grade 12, and 16 units to graduate.

The table contained in the report shows the required and elective studies for each of the four grades and the unit credits for each.

They are as follows:

Grade 9

Required—English I (1); Physical Education (.2); Civics (1).

Elective — Science (1); Applied Math I (1); Elementary Algebra (1); Shop I (.4); Homemaking I (.4); French I (1); Latin I (1); Occupations (.4); Music, Art.

For Better Achievement

The revised program of studies at Punchard which the school committee adopted last week is intended to be of definite advantage to students of the upper grades.

Elimination of the former conventional courses,— classical, technical, general and commercial — puts an end to rigid study program which had been in effect and replaces it with one of more flexibility which is expected to better suit the ability of the individual student.

Recommendation for the change came after an extensive study by Bernard L. Kellmurray, director of guidance, and with the approval of Headmaster Lindsay J. March. In the survey consideration was given to the curriculum-building practices among other high schools in regard to collage entrance standards and commercial and industrial aims.

Under the general scheme of the new program a student will be required to do certain basic work each year and to fill out his schedule by adding subjects of his own choice, under proper guidance, which satisfy his ability and needs.

In this way some of the studies not open to him under the former system may become available to him under the new plan.

The changes are not a great departure from the former system but offer a plan designed to give each student a schedule better fitted for his talents.

The revised program, the committee and its sponsors expect, will result in higher achievement on the part of a great number of pupils.

Education And Good Fun

It is reported that many hundreds of "investment clubs" are now in operation throughout the country. The usual method of operation is for the members to contribute a certain sum of money each month to a fund, which is then used to buy stocks. Some have been most successful. One club, which began in 1940, has had a total of $17,000 in contributions. Ten thousand has been withdrawn from the fund — and $44,000 remains.

Not all will do so well, of course. But the clubs provide an excellent means of broadening the base of business — ownership in this country. And, as one writer has pointed out, they also "offer the possibility of profit and the certainty of education and good fun".

What Our Readers Say —

THOSE SCHOOL COSTS

Editor of The Townsman:

Here we go again.

Your lead story in last week's (Dec. 31) Townsman is a prepared statement, under the by-line of the chairman of our school committee, which perpetuates the same old misleading information about our annual school costs.

The only thing that can be said in favor of such figures is that it is an old Spanish custom to pass out incomplete costs in this way. But are you gullible enough, Mr. Editor, to believe that our current school cost is $238 per pupil? Well, neither are some of your readers.

In the interests of accuracy, is it impossible to get from official sources in this town an honest (i.e. complete) story of what it will cost for our schools this year? What do you omit from the picture when you prepare a budget for your own business? Your recent explanation about the necessity of paying for our school buildings approaches but does not yet get to the truth of the matter.

Were I to tell you that I can drive a car for four or five cents a mile wouldn't you think I had rocks in my head?

IN EXTORTION PLOT

15. An FBI agent said the man was arrested for sending threatening letters to the two businessmen. Andover police reported the letters contained "veiled threats" of harm to the children of both men and were worded as though they had been copied from a detective story. Potvin was employed as an erect- or for the Andrew Wilson company in Lawrence, of which Alexander M. Wilson is assistant treasurer. His home is across the street from Luke's market, 39 Brookfield st., Lawrence, of which Lucien DeBruckere is the proprietor.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, whose son, John, aged 4, was allegedly threatened, received two letters, one sent Dec. 9 and the other Dec. 19.

Mentioned in three letters sent to the DeBruckere family were two of their four children, Elaine, 10, and Jacqueline 7.

When the first letter was received by the latter family it was turned over to the Lawrence police. They called in the FBI who had already been working on the case involving the Wilsons.

After the Lawrence man received his last letter he was told by the FBI to follow instructions about leaving the money in $100 bills in a hole under a stone near the Boxford-Georgetown line on Route 133. He did as directed using paper in a dummy package. The FBI agents were waiting and Potvin was seized as he removed the rock which marked the hole.

Taken to Boston he pleaded innocent to a charge that he knowingly and with intent to extort, used the mails to threaten to commit bodily harm to persons.

Potvin is a veteran of World War II and is unmarried. He worked mornings on a truck covering a broad route and from 3:30 p.m. to midnight, worked for the Wilson company. He earned $100 a week, according to his father, Alphonse. Occasionally, said the father, the boy did not feel well. He contracted malaria while serving with the army in the Pacific area.

Other streets on which coasting will be permitted are: Bartlet, from Morton to Punchard avenue and Marland from its southerly end to Tewksbury street.

Also, Cheever circle from the top of the hill to Elm street; Binney street, Union street to end; Liberty street from end to Sterling street.

*Machines help us earn more —
and have more*

WE AMERICANS couldn't begin to have the things we own and the comforts we enjoy without the machines we've learned to build and use.

One hundred years ago it took 60 hours of human labor to raise a bushel of wheat.

Today, thanks to modern machinery, it takes less than two hours of labor per bushel. There are 58 hours left for the farm worker to produce more wheat.

It's the same way in industry. Machines have made our working hours more "product-full." Our grandfathers worked hard but they couldn't produce as much — so nobody had as much.

Thanks to our American teamwork between people who save money, and people with the skills who operate the machines that these savings make possible, all of us are able to earn more money for our work — and buy more goods for our money — than any other people in history.

Your dollars, deposited in this bank, not only provide a backlog of security, but also put you in a position to seize any favorable opportunity that comes along. Start an account with us, soon.
